PARENT WALKTHROUGHS AND PMAC MEETING

Thank you to all parents who attended parent walkthroughs and the first PMAC meeting of the year. Parents were able to walk around the new building, meet their child's new teachers, and get a sense of the learning environment here at ESCA-BIS. Following the walkthroughs, the 1st PMAC meeting of the year took place in the assembly hall. Quite a lot was covered, including remarks from acting-chair of the PMAC, Nasima Karim, Library Fundraising and updates from Victoria Whall, International Baccalaureate information from Marta Bobiatynska and William Polan, as well as a governance and financial overview of ESCA-BIS given by David Grant. Following the meeting, parents were given the opportunity to view the new third floor construction and later enjoy refreshments in the new cafeteria. If you were unable to attend and are interested in hearing more, please feel free to contact us.

PYP: STUDENTS TAKE THE LEAD

The IB Primary Years Program encourages students to identify and choose the areas of learning they wish to explore. This is inquiry-based learning at its core, and it is the driving force behind the PYP.

“When students feel they have a voice and the freedom to make supported choices in their learning, they will be engaged. It is impossible for them not to be,” PYP Coordinator Donnah Ciempka (Coatesville Primary School in Australia.)

By nature, the PYP fosters an inquiring mind and empowers students to become agents of their own learning. To aid this, teachers at BIS create, support and encourage a climate for student ownership. Playing the role of facilitator requires teachers to plan for and encourage student questions, provide relevant and challenging curriculum, and formulate assessments that capture authentic learning and knowledge.

The PYP defines student ownership as engaging students as active partners in their own learning, which gives them the skills and the space to make choices, show leadership and take action. Enabling student agency creates autonomous and self-organized learners. Students recognize that it is possible to make a difference in their own lives and society and they feel empowered to make choices that may lead to action. As their independence grows, students work with their peers and teachers to initiate and lead their own learning. Student ownership is recognized in many different ways, from students selecting which books to read, to choosing what to investigate, or how they wish to present their understandings. Where and how students work – whether it be in a quiet setting, individually, in pairs, with a teacher, indoors or outdoors – are also key ways students can have input.

BIS finds that summative tasks for units of inquiry are great ways to explore ownership. Solving problems and answering questions demonstrates how students are taking ownership of their learning and ideas. And, with any goal-setting process, students need to identify what will be used as a measure of their success to keep them motivated. BIS teachers use a variety of pre- and post-assessments such as self, peer and teacher assessment, which allow students to evaluate their success or identify how to reach them. Students are empowered to see their strengths and their areas of improvement rather than relying on the teacher to identify them.

Have questions? Want to discuss the PYP further? Please Join us for Bishkek International School’s “PYP Café” this upcoming Wednesday.

SWIMMING AT ESCA-BIS

The swimming ECA is off to a great start with beginner classes Tuesday through Thursday and an advanced class on Friday. During class, students are taught swimming strokes and play swimming games to get comfort in the water and practice skills. The biggest priority this term is teaching safety in and around the water. This week, younger students have already learned how to be safe at the pool facility, worked on how enter and exit the pool safely, and have had fun in the shallow area so that students are comfortable in the water before moving on to the deeper area. On Thursday and Friday, older students explored the deeper areas of the pool and started to practice freestyle. I love to teach kids to be safe and happy in the water, so I'm really excited for this Term!

INCLUSIVE EDUCATION

I am delighted to return to ESCA-BIS this academic year as the Inclusive Education Coordinator. My role will involve providing support to school staff to enable them to meet the learning needs of the students who may have additional needs. This will involve conducting assessments, providing advice and training to staff, setting individualised targets for students and working with individual students as needed. I will also be available to meet with parents or guardians to discuss any concerns regarding communication skills, learning or emotional well being. Please contact me on lbowler@bis.kg if you wish to arrange a meeting.

In addition to this I hope to use my expertise as a Speech and Language Therapist to support the communication development of all students within the school. Good communication skills underpin all learning and it's widely recognised that the environment that a child or young person is in can make a big difference to their communication skills and development. Therefore, our aim is for ESCA-BIS to be a communication friendly setting. To do this I will be conducting classroom audits throughout this term to ensure that the environment and teaching methods used are optimal for language and communication development. We will keep you updated with our progress."

Invite your friends* to the Open Day and win a pizza party for your class!

Each person you bring to the Open Day earns one point for your class. This is a competition between classes, so work with your classmates to get the most people for your class. Three prizes are available – so three form classes will win. To make it fairer, the number of points earned by the class will be divided by the number of students in the class – so each class has a fair chance!

Pssst... they don't have to be your friends. Even your parents or relatives or enemies count! They just have to not be enrolled in our school right now – and come to the Open Day*
